KILLING HER LOVER BY ACCIDENT. AN EARLY MORNING TRAGEDY IN A SHOOTING GAL-LERY-STORIES OF EYE-WITNESSES.

Every evening the covered cartway leading to the coal yard in the rear of No. 484 Sixth-ave, is transformed into a shooting gallery, and as such it is used all night by Thomas Mofiat and his assistant. At 2 o'clock yesterday morning, while the Sixth-ave, dance halls were still crowded, a policeman was summoned to the gallery by a man who said that his friend had been accidentally shot in the place. On the floor, near the counter from which shots are fired, lay a well-dressed young man insensible and bleeding from a bullet wound in his forehead. Over him a young woman bent and cried in a frantic way: "Oh, Charlie, speak to me!" At her side was a frail-looking girl who wept and moaned in sympathy.

The police recognized the young women as Jennie Mitchell and Alice Sinclair, inmates of a disreputable house in West Thirty-first-st. They said that the wounded man was Charles M. Sams, assistant purser on the steamship Nacoochee, of the Savannah Line, and that he had been shot by accident, Charles Harriman, a youth who was in charge of the gallery, said that Jennie Mitchell had shot the man, but he thought the act was not intentional. The policeman procured a stretcher and had Sams carried to the Thirtieth-st, police station, while he arrested the woman and Harriman. An ambulance conveved Sams to the New-York Hospital, where he died about six hours later without recovering consciousness.

The story told by Harriman was that Sams and arrested the woman and Harriman. An ambulance conveyed Sams to the New-York Hospital, where he died about six hours later without recovering conscionaness.

The story told by Harriman was that Sams and another man entered the gallery with the women, and Saws fired three shots from a Ballard rifle of twenty-two calibre. The men were under the influence of liquor, but the women were sober. After shooting at a pipe with success. Sams offered to bet Jennie Mitchell $6 that she could not hit the pipe. She did not want to shoot, but he insisted and showed her how to hold the rifle. As she appeared to be awkward in its use, he bantered her. They were langhing and she turned toward him to say: "Now let me alone," and as she turned the rifle was discharged and Sams fell to the floor. She seemed unable to understand what had happened for a time and then she became frantic with grief. The young man who was with Sams tried to lift him from the floor. Then he said he wor! I go for a policeman, and he was not seen in the place again. Alice Sinclair made a statement similar to Harriman's. Jennie Mitchell said she had known Sams for about four years. She met him while visiting in Savannah and he wanted her to marry him. He was a clerk there at the time. She afterward frequently met him in this city. He was fond of her, she said, and wished her to reform. When he went to see her on Tuesday night he took a friend with him and asked her and Alice Sinclair to take dinner in a Sixth-ave, restaurant. After dinner they visited several concert halls in the avenue, and they were on their way back toward. Thirty-first-st. when Sams insisted on going into the shooting gallery. He called his friend "Leb" Harris, but she never had met Harris before and she knew nothing about the man.

In one of the pockets of the dead man was found a telegram with the name "Leb" at the end. It was sent from New-London, Conn., on Tuesday, and stated that the setanship, It was learned that Sams asked permission to have a friend sleep with him on the vessel a

THE UNDERWRITERS' NEW SCHEDULE.

Te-day is rather an important one in fire insurance ircles, as it is the date chosen for enforcing the new chedule of the New-York Board of Fire Underwritzs. Following are some of the requirements and efficiency charges for buildings in dry-goods disticts:

triets:
Shutters of iron or other fire-proof material, approved by the Committee on Surveys, having suitable iron frames to all windows, except the first floor front, to be placed either inside or outside, at least four inches from any woodwork and from the window frames and cusings, unless they be of metal. Shutters on front of building to be so arranged as to be opened from the outside.

For buildings not thus equipped the following charges will be added to the premium rate.

Cents.

Another requirement is as below: Parapet walls to be at least 5 feet high above the roof, 12 inches thick and coped, and to have openings 3½ feet above the roof suitable for fire defence. The following charge for deficiencies has been prescribed in this case: Cents.

Cents.

Skylight openings through one or more floors, unless with fron frame and heavy plate glass, not less than % of an inch in thickness, or having iron shutters or suitable trap doors.

Hatchway opening not provided with trap doors as described.

For buildings equipped with the automatic sprink-ler the fire insurance companies will deduct 10 cents from the schedule rates of premium. A REPORTED DUEL THAT WAS NOT FOUGHT.

The Commercial Advertiser is apparently falling into the habit of publishing bogus accounts of duels. Last week it described a duel on Long Island which was a sheer fabrication. That is not surprising, however, since much of the Long Island news sent to evening papers is of that description. Yesterday it gave a circumstantial account of a duel on this island which has the same air of fabrication. It states that shortly after 5 o'clock on Tuesday morning a coupe appeared near the East River shore adjoining a lumber yard between Seventy-seventh and Seventy-eighth-sts., from which five young gentlemen alighted. They then proceeded to a spot where they supposed they could not be observed, and two of them blazed away at each other with revolvers, exchanging five shots apiece.

A Tarbune reporter visited the spot described. At the foot of Seventy-eighth-st. is the dock where the lumber is landed from schooners, and at the time of the alleged duel there were present two three-masted schooners and a large dumping boat. On the schooners were several people, including the wife of one of the capitains. Noue of these heard any firing. The lumber yard extends only over a part of the block between the river front and Avenne-A, and to enable the combatants to get to clear ground they must have climbed fences almost inaccessible to sailors. The unanimous verdict of persons living in the neighborhood was that there was not a word of truth in the whole story.

THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE THRONGED.

The spacious halls of the American Institute Building continue to be thronged daily by persons interested in improvements in the massive machinery of the great manufacturing interests, or the latest helps to the householder in the way of simpler, handsomer or more convenient furniture, and the less ornamental but highly necessary utensils of the kitchen. Over 1,200 exhibits are in the hall. General Superintendent Hull states that the fair has been better in the quality of the activities and the number of persons who have visited it than for years before. The attendance has been good ever since the opening. The concerts attract many during the pauses in sight-seeing. Among the oddities is an "anatomic temple" with two spires, made of the bones, large and small, of fowls, with a complete skeleton by way of an outside attraction. The temple is the work of Alphouse Ziegler, the chat one of the large private hotels of the city. To day the lady visitors will be presented with a "son-yenir." Three thousand of these have been provided. THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE THRONGED.

THE CHESS CHAMPION AT PLAY.

Zukertort, the class champion, who won the first prize at the recent Lendon tournament, is playing every afternoon at the rooms of the Manhaitan Chess Club. No. 104 East Fourteenth-st. Contrary to the practice of many professional chess-players, he does not insist upon a fee for the games that he plays. He was invited to visit the Stock Exchange yesterday, and there he played a game with Moritz Meyer, the acknowledged chess champion among the buils and bears. Zukertort announced that he would compel his adversary to mate him with a certain pawn, and in spite of able efforts on the part of Mr. Meyer, he succeeded in half an hour. In the afternoon he played several games with Mr. Blackmore, of the Manhaitan Chess Club, and endeared himself to every one by his bright conversation and friendliness of spirit. On Friday he will begin to play simultaneous games with members of the club only.

MARRIAGE OF MISS CARRIE TURNER TIRED OF PLAYING YOUNG MRS. WINTHROP

SHE DECIDES TO LEAVE THE STAGE AT THE END OF THIS WEEK.

Under the fostering wing of the Madison Square management Miss Carrie Turner has lately attained considerable distinction as the exponent of the pathetically emotional Joung Mrs. Winthrop. Though a comparatively young actress, she has been perhaps the most promising of the many young actresses who are engaged by the Madison Square Company for a 'term of years." Miss Turner's contract was for four years, and for that space of time the management thought themselves secure of her services. But the vanity of human wishes has once more been illustrated, and Miss Carrie Turner will no longer portray the chastened grief of Toung Mrs. Winthrop at her husband's too freunent use of the latchkey. Instead of Found Mrs. Winthrop as their husband's too freunent use of the latchkey. Instead of Found Mrs. Winthrop as which latchkey. Instead of Found Mrs. Winthrop as which latchkey. Instead of Found Mrs. Winthrop as which latchkey is a state of the latchkey. Instead of Found Mrs. Winthrop as which latchkey is a state of the latchkey. Instead of Found Mrs. Winthrop as which latchkey is a state of the latchkey is a state of the latchkey. Instead of Winthrop and the forever the ellitering prospect of emoting a long series of Madison Square heroines for the moral elevation of posterity, Miss Turner has, metaphorically speaking, torn her four years' contract into frue ments and east them at Daniel Prohuman's fees. Inc. Frohman naturally feels griewer and in the product of the position of a leading actress, but also to prepare the public mind to receive her as such, and his labor is practically thrown away.

THE PRINTERS' STRIKE.

THE TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION CHARGED WITH VIO-

THE TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION CHARGED WITH VIO-LATING THE CONSPIRACY LAWS.

One of the largest employers of printers said yesterday to a Tribone reporter: "The union would do well to go slow now, or it may get itself into serious trouble. Some of its methods during the recent strike have been disgraceful and have laid its officers open to both civil and criminal prosecution under the conspiracy laws. They have eajoled men into joining the union by promise of support in case they are not at work, and when this has failed have threatened them with the wrath of the union. In some cases they have gone so far as to support in case they are not at work, and when this has failed have threatened them with the wrath of the union. In some cases they have gone so far as to write anonymous letters to the wives of men threatening them with loss of work. They have used every means to injure the business of such employers as did not choose to submit to their dictation. They claim to have $50,000 in their treasury. If some printer against whom they have worked should sue them for conspiracy to injure his business, their $50,000 might disappear and some of their leaders might find themselves in a very bad position. I have no fight with the union, but I do object to their running my business, and before I'll submit to it I'll shut up my shop. In one shop I know of they insisted on the discharge of a foreman in whom the employer had perfect confidence because he was distasteful to the union, and put one of their own men in his stead. They insist on appointing a 'chairman' in every office. Suppose a combination of bank clerks should insist on appointing a cashier and tellers, how long would the stockholders stand it? And yet it is exactly a similar case. The effect of the union's tactics is demoralizing to the men themselves. I had one young man in my shop who was getting more than union rates. He was sober and reliable. He was induced to join the union and is paid a benefit. He has been in the office several times since under the influence of liquor."

of liquor."

Martin B. Brown, the city printer, said that he had heard some talk of a combination of employers who would establish a scale of wages for the workmen. He thought such a plan was feasible and would be productive of good. He had entered into an arrangement with the union, agreeing to take on union men hereafter, but his regular force who are non-union men should remain unmolested and should not be forced into the union. As long as the union kept its part of the contract he would keep his.

TWO CARS AT ONCE ON THE BRIDGE.

TWO CARS AT ONCE ON THE BRIDGE.

Two cars at once are run regularly on the Bridge during business hours, to the great comfort of the passengers, who are delayed neither on the platforms nor at the entrances. Every successive development on the Bridge has, however, resulted in the discovery of some weakness, and the double cars have been no exception. Although generally the power furnished by the auxiliary cable for the purpose of working the automatic switch at the New-York end has been sufficient for double cars, yet every little while it proves totally insufficient, to the great annoyance of the engineer and all concerned. It has been found expedient, during the business hours when double cars are run, to use a locomotive for switching, and this obviates all dufficulties. A Tratyne reporter saw Superintendent locomotive for switching, and this obviates all diffi-culties. A Tribune reporter saw Superintendent Martin yesterday and asked him whether there was sufficient space for switching at the New-York end with a locomotive with three or four cars. "No," he answered, "and this is one of our anxieties. Two cars can be switched and that is all. And yet every reasonable man knows that the Bridge rail-road traffic will grow to such dimensions that trains of four and five cars will be imperatively needed, and the public will insist upon them. But they are absolutely impossible unless we have an extension of the depot."

absolutely inpossible unless we have an extension of the depot."

"What do you think of Colonel Paine's proposed union depot in connection with the elevated railroad to stretch across from your present position to the Register's office?"

"It would solve all difficulties, and must be adopted sooner or later."

Placards forbidding smoking and the carrying of lighted eigars or eigarettes in the cars or on the platforms have been put up. The bronze tablets containing the names of all the Bridge trustees since the beginning of the work have been placed in position on each of the towers.

ANOTHER EVACUATION DAY COMMITTEE. ANOTHER EVACUATION DAY COMMITTEE.

A special meeting of the Governing Committee of the Stock Exchange was held yesterday. It lasted nearly three hours, and at the close it was officially announced by the secretary of the Board that the following committee had been appointed to cooperate with committees from other organizations for the proper celebration of Evacuation Day; Domald Mackay, F. K. Sturgis, W. S. Nichols, H. S. Wilson, G. A. Fanshawe, Loomis L. White, George W. Ely and John H. Davis.

The reports of the Committee on Insolvencies and the appeal cases, which were decided, were said by officers of the Board to have no public interest.

The object of the organization is stated to be to secure "the advancement of the art of dancing," to correct and remedy certain abuses, to compose and publish dances with suitable music and to promote social intercourse among the members of the society.

ADVOCATING THE SAWMILL RIVER ROUTE.

The Aqueduct Commissioners listened yesterday to Alexander Hamilton. He said that he owned property near Irvington-on-the-Hudson. This would be injuriously affected by the new aqueduct if the Hudson River route was agreed upon. If the Sawmill River route was selected, he would be willing to give the city the land needed on his property for the aqueduct. If the Hudson River route was decided on, the question of land damages would be a serious one. He believed that it was better for the city to acquire the land in fee rather than a mere easement. A detective from Paterson, N. J., appeared before Justice Gardner, in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday, with J. Ross Fitzgerald, whom he had arrested on board a steamer bound for Savannah. The officer was accompanied by two women, each of whom claimed to be the wife of Mr. Fitzgerald. The first marriage occurred in this city several years ago, and the second in Paterson recently. Fitzgerald was arrested on a warrant obtained at Paterson by his first wife. The prisoner said he would accompany the detective without a requisition. The officer departed with his prisoner for Paterson.

A letter recently arrived from Copenhagen addressed in Danish: "Pastor Anderson, New-York, Brooklyn, or vicinity." It proved to be intended for the Rev. R. Anderson, a Castle Garden missionary. The message it contained was as peculiar as the address. The writer announced that he was a sort of second edition of the Apostle Paul, converted under exactly similar circumstances, and called to save America, as Denmark was lost anyhow, and with the rest of Europe would shortly be given up to fire and destruction. To enable him to begin his work here, he wanted Mr. Anderson to send him a steerage ticket for a Hamburg steamer.

I have been using in my practice for the past two years Horlick's Food for Infants. It has proved the most satisfactory and beneficial of anything of the kind I have even used,"—E. W. Alken, M. D., Concord-square, Boston. "I began the use of Horlick's Food for Infants in the Foundlins Department of Charity Hospital, Cleveland, Obio, in the spiring of 1878, and was very much pleased with its effects Since then I have used it largely in private practice, and finit superior to all other preparations of the kind. I use it for infants both in sickness and health and believe it to be the measest perfect of any infant food now prepared."—A. J. Gawne, M. D., Sandusky, Ohio. #### An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. As such it is recognized and preseribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous maiadies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a readisine for superior to all others in the family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Influenza, ailments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Prompttude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speediest and most certain to cure, most certain to cure.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.
